

Roadworks at Thickthorn Area

Please note that from the evening of Friday 11 May, our works will move onto the next phase. We will now be switching sides and closing the A47 westbound between Ipswich Road and Thickthorn interchange. Works will last until Thursday 24 May, with working hours of 8pm to 6am, weeknights only.

The same diversion route will apply but in the opposite direction. Traffic will be diverted from the A47 at Ipswich Road interchange via A140 Ipswich Road northbound, A146 Daniels Road westbound, A11 Newmarket Road southbound towards Cringleford, before re-joining the A47 at Thickthorn interchange. A map showing the diversion route is listed below.

For those of you interested in our progress, at present we have 2 drilling rigs working, one on nights and the other on days. In total we have completed 12 boreholes, 23 trial pits and six window samples. These surveys will allow us to gain valuable information on the existing ground and network condition, helping Highways England design and programme future works necessary for improving the strategic road network.
